“ Many years ago Bobby and I talked his sister (my wife) into going out in the boat fishing with us. Bobby caught a small bass and put in the live well. Everytime Sue got bored and started hinting that she wanted go back to our campsite, I would get her attention and Bobby would tell her he would check her bait. Then he would hook that little bass on her line and let back in the water. Of course it was no time until she caught a fish (I should say "that" fish). Long story short,using that technique she caught that same bass 4 or 5 times. Bobby and had a great time. Sue's feelings are a story for another time.
