“ The past week has been the best and most horrible week of my life. I'm forever grateful that I got to marry my best friend, my soul mate! Those memories I am now blessed with to hold in my heart and cherish for however many more days I have on this earth! Then, my life came to an devastating stand still all in the matter of mili seconds everything changed forever! Today, my day started watching my tiny little Cardi B waiting at the door for her daddy to come home from work and love us! When it didn't happen for the first since the murder my heart sunk and it finally hit me it was never going to happen again! There is nothing that can be put in any type of fancy words to describe the against and pain my heart is in. Today is the day my mind finally told my heart he was forever gone and from there the rushing pain and panic attacks have taken over the rest of my day and prosabley going to take over a lot of my upcoming days and oh so long nights. I pray tonight, that I made him proud today handling everything him and I have always talked about he wanted done if anything like this ever must happen! I love you Colton more than anything on earth! You was literally the air I breathed! Every word and every promise I made to and to the kids on the beach that day, I will spend the rest of my days doing my best not to fall short filling them! U truly we be missed every time I open my eyes! I will forever proudly be married to the best man, father, husband and most importantly best friend any woman could dream of! Love you even after always. Mrs. Mckinney.
