“ Heather was my first best friend, when I first moved to Alabama in 1998. She was her sweet and tomboy-ish self, not afraid to go out and be adventurous. I was heartbroken to hear the news. She’s been a fighter all her life, tough and tenacious. I’ll miss you Heather. I’ll forever cherish the memories we’ve shared. ❤️🙏

“ I never got to meet Heather, but as a coworker of her mother, I felt as if I knew her. I will never forget when this difficult journey in Heather's life began. Since I worked with Rachel, I was made aware of Heather's diagnosis. I remember asking all my friends and family to pray for her and her family. One Saturday I took my grandchildren to Great Clips in Guntersville to get a hair cut. At this time, Heather had prayer jars within each establishment, since they knew of her being a beautician at Great Clips. As we were leaving my granddaughter ask who that was on the jar? I told her what the jar was for... she immediately reached into her little pocket and retrieved her money that she had to buy a toy with at Walmart, placed it in the jar and astonished me as she said " maybe this will help her". It's literally the little things that make a difference in this world we live in today. God bless and keep this family through this very difficult loss of their loved one.
