Tribute Wall

“ Yesterday was a bitter day for me ever year. It's my mother's birthday and I miss her every day. On top of that I get a call that my best friend from the class of 87 had past away.

To Jonathan Hallmark, Veteran, husband, and father your family took me in when I didn't have a home after mother died and I could never repay you and your family for that. RIP brother you will be missed by the hallmark family and all your friends. Fair winds and following seas shipmate I'll take the watch from here.

To the hallmark family you taught me right from wrong in a time I really needed it. My prayers and thanks go out to during this time of mourning. Sorry I Haven't been around in the past years but I miss you all.

It has been a pleasure to have Jonathan as a friend, We first met him a year ago at the Cancer Center when my wife had her first treatment, he was such a pleasure to be around, a caring, compassionate, mighty man of God.

It is an honor to have Jonathan as our friend!

“ Jon, I know we have both seen others from our ranks go on before us, but this one hits home especially hard. You have been a fellow Soldier and friend to me for several years. We, along with others, have had our share of laughs, good times, and tears. Psalm 121-8 says "The LORD will watch over your coming and going both now and forevermore". This verse stayed with me through our deployment and resonates still today. You are now standing watch as well.

Rest well my friend, until we rally up again.

Jon,

You were not only my Team Chief, but a brother in Christ, and part of my foundational walk with the Lord. You are a mighty man of God, and Soldier for the Kingdom. I will never forget our time spent together at Camp Echo and your love for God's Word. Rest in Peace brother.
