Julia Eason Marsh 75 of Boaz

It is with a mix of physical sadness and spiritual joy that I share this news. My mother, Julia Eason Marsh, passed away during the night. It is a phone call no son wants to make and no daughter wants to receive. There are dear family and friends we took the time this morning to speak with who have provided so much caring support and advice. You each have your own unique and personal loving memories of my mother, whether you are a lifetime friend who is more like family or a family member cherished as a friend.

I like to think of the young version of my mother who spotted my dad in his letterman's sweater at the Dairy Queen and said, "I want that one!" I like to think of the young mother, songwriter, and singer who connected with so many others through the language of song. Most of all, I like to think of the deep roots and solid foundation she established in her faith. If you knew her, you were loved.

Mrs. Marsh is survived by her Daughter; Shannon Griggs (Shay), Son; William Patrick Marsh, Grandchildren; Anna Katherine Griggs, Abigail Griggs. She is preceded in death by her Husband; Kenneth Marsh, Sister; Carol Williams, Parents; Virgil and Vorene Eason.

As she requested, her ashes will be combined with those of my dad, who's been waiting on her, and taken to the family cemetery. If you would like to do something in both of their memories, donate to Shepherd's Cove in Albertville or to a charity of your choice.
