“ Michael, I remember all the good times we had during our childhood. I particularly remember the Mother's Day of 1977 right before I left home to marry Pete, You and Charlie picked a whole bunch of those Seven Sisters roses that grow wild and before I woke up that morning y'all covered my bed with them. I had roses all over me. Talk about a Bed of Roses and thorns. I will never forget you. You will always live in my heart. I miss you already. Love your Sis Nellie
